The Fat Chick Presents:

The Dire Disaster Drinking Game

This is a take on the typical television or film-based drinking games. Choose one or more of the items listed below and write it/them on index cards. Every time one of the items on the card shows up on the screen, everybody has a drink. (I usually suggest shots for this game, but given what I've seen so far, you and your guests will be under the table within 15-20 minutes. Maybe a beer, with low alcohol content, will allow you to get through an entire episode.)
